

Call for Summer GRA Applications for the West Virginia Survey

The Sociology department will be conducting a representative social survey of West Virginia. Drs. Chris Scheitle and Katie Corcoran will be directing this project. The survey will be mailed to residents during Spring semester. In the summer, GRA teams (two teams of two) will travel to areas in WV with a low response rate. The GRA teams will travel to specific non-response households, knock on doors, and ask if a household member would be willing to take the survey. Travel expenses will be covered. GRAs will also be asked to assist with other aspects of the survey including, but not limited to, scanning surveys, data checking, running analyses, advertising, and writing results.

Applicants must:

- Be willing and able to travel throughout WV, including overnight stays at a hotel
- Have strong communication skills
- Be reliable and out-going

Preference will also be given to students with reliable transportation, who have research experience, and/or who have knowledge of WV.
